DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-19, 26-29 drawn to the method and apparatus for imaging of dielectric permittivity comprising calibrating the near field scanning microwave microscope, a coaxial transmission line resonator, a microwave source, a first, a second, and third motor controller, a detector, a feedback circuit, and processor for determining the dielectric permittivity of the sample test, classified in class 324, subclass 750.
 - II. Claim 20, drawn to the system for quantitatively modeling and imaging of dielectric properties having a memory device, a model calibration curve generator, a probe calibration curve generator, and a test sample calibration curve generator, classified in class 702, subclass 97.
 - III. Claims 21-24, drawn to a spring loaded sample holder, classified in class 269, subclass 37+.
 - IV. Claims 25, drawn to an apparatus for imaging a sample using a near field scanning microwave microscope, classified in class 382, subclass 312+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and (II-IV) are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the patentability of the combination do not rely on the details of the subcombination. The subcombination has separate utility such as spectrophotometer, polariscope, and polarimeter.

3. Inventions II, III, and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, the limitation recited in the invention II not be en recited in the other inventions III and IV, and vice verse. The invention IV has separate utility such as scanning electron microscope. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group (II- IV), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 2829

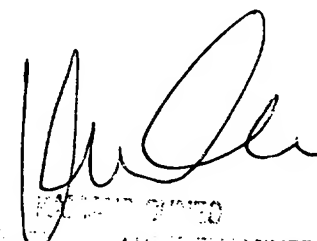

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
